

REPORT

Conference at “Hotel Clarks Amer” on “PEOPLE, PROBITY AND PERFORMANCE”.
Hosted by the Management Development Academy.

DAY 2: august 29, 2009

TOPIC 1.

CREATIVITY IN PRIVATE AND PUBLIC SECTORS

Creativity, in our sight, was totally different than what we were explained and that was a new perspective, how public sector companies grew because of some small new ideas by upper and mostly, lower levels of management.

It is not anymore a concept of private sector but for better future, public sectors have also adopted many creative steps. Our honorable speakers explained “creative accounting” is not a part of creativity but as a future employee of any company, we were beautifully guided for a better future of us and people around us.

TOPIC 2.

EDUCATION POLICY AT THE CROSS ROADS

This was a session where we were left so unanswered by the speakers. Not because they did not answer us but because we were all left with a doubtful future and gave a thought of our nation in a dark way. We received a new light towards reforms in education, since, it is the base of all loopholes prevailing in our country. If we want our nation to be developed, “education”, is to be made our first goal.

TOPIC 3.

ADMINISTRATIVE REFORMS: EMERGENT PERSPECTIVES

Personally, being interested in entering into administrative services, I enjoyed the very session thoroughly. Every flaw in the system of administrative service examinations and steps to check and reforms were suggested by Mrs. Vineeta Nair. We were satisfied with our many queries about such services and future emergent perspectives of duties of civil servants.

All the sessions were enlightening and encouraging. Speakers were one of the eminent personalities of their fields and we were so helped to enhance our knowledge on above topics.

With gratitude to our director, being kind to send us to such prestigious place,
